

7. PASSIA Desk Diary

Every year since 1988, PASSIA has published its “Diary”, which continues to follow its original aims and goals, i.e., to provide a comprehensive directory of contact information for relevant organizations operating in the West Bank and Gaza – listing names, addresses, main activities – combined with a full day-to-day planner (calendar) of the respective year and a comprehensive compilation of events and statistics related to Palestine and the Palestinians.

The PASSIA Desk Diary is annually updated – entries are added, changed or removed and new addresses and information are included. PASSIA is very proud to say that its diary has become an invaluable source of information for many people, both locally and abroad, and as yet there is no equivalent publication in Palestine.

Contents

As in previous years, the 2011 and 2012 editions of the PASSIA Desk Diary included updated and new addresses, a calendar, and comprehensive information and statistics on relevant events and issues, as they became available throughout the preceding years.

The 2011 edition contained 447 pages and included educational textboxes on the issue of “Negotiations” in its calendar section. These included chronologically listed events related to Palestinian-Israeli negotiations to date as well as quotes and an overview of the different positions on core issues (e.g., settlements, Jerusalem, borders, etc.).

The 2012 edition contained 472 pages. The calendar section included textboxes with informational material on the “The Road to Palestinian Statehood.” These include dates, events and quotes related to Palestinian self-determination, independence and membership admissions. The Diary’s back inside cover features a small poster displaying the names and flags of states which have so far recognized Palestine.
